

Augment Ventures October 2018 Newsletter

In our previous newsletter we showcased the latest development from one of our health and hygiene startups, RayVio. The LARQ Bottle—a self-cleaning, water purifying water bottle — has begun shipping product to early backers from the kickstarter campaign.

This month, we're excited to share the news of our most recent investment in GeoTix, a leading provider of online ticketing solutions, connecting local media companies to local audiences and to local events. The ticketing platform is intuitive and provides a seamless experience to local audiences to participate in a local event. GeoTix enters the $5B+ online ticketing space, providing local media companies an avenue to retain, attract, and grow their local audiences and drive much needed non-advertising revenue dollars.
